3. The records shall be delivered in the same condition and order as they are kept in the ordinary course of business, and shall be delivered in a secured carton or envelope in order to protect the records and keep them in proper order.

4. A complete inventory shall accompany the records, specifying exactly what records are contained in each carton or envelope.

5. As used in this subpoena, the terms "documents" and "records" shall mean any ORIGINAL WRITING (handwritten, typed, printed, or otherwise produced), formal or informal, in your possession, custody, or control, regardless of where located and includes, but is not limited to, contracts, agreements, communications, letters, telegrams, regulations, memoranda, surveys, studies, summaries, statements, checks, records of credits, records of debits, reports, manifest, brokerage agreements, bills of lading, test analysis results, notices, announcements, transcripts, field notes, weigh tickets, telephone memoranda, purchase orders, instructions, charges, manuals, brochures, photographs, schedules, price lists, messages, records, invoices, tape recordings, notes of interviews or communications, calendar entries, records of meetings, applications, newspaper advertisements, video tapes, information retrieval systems and any other methods of electronic storage, and material prepared for circulation to any past or present division, affiliate, officer, director, employee or agent. In all cases where originals are not available, the term "document" also means copies of originals, identical or otherwise.

6. Without limitation of the term "control" as used in the preceding paragraph, a document is deemed to be in your control if: you have the right to secure the document or a copy thereof from another source or public or private entity having actual possession thereof.
